Warrant Defined

A warrant is a judicial writ authorizing an officer to execute a judgment or make a search, seizure, or an arrest.

There are 3 types of warrants:

Criminal Warrant – Local warrants for various crimes such as assault, murder, breaking and entering, larceny, and worthless checks.

Fugitive Warrant – Must be obtained in order to detain a person placed under arrest for outstanding warrants from another state.

Governor's Warrant – These warrants come from the Governor's office so the suspect, who has committed a crime in another state, may be arrested and transported back to the state.

Primary duties of Warrant Squad Officers:

Some of their duties include but not limited to:

- Attempt to locate and arrest suspects.
- Serve Criminal and Juvenile summonses and Order to Show Causes
